

Cell phone use should absolutely be BANNED after a flight has taken off and until it has landed. We don't allow everyone to play their music out loud on planes nor should we have to listen to everyone's conversations--it can create undue hostility between passengers.